GOV. GUILD REFUSED TO COMMUTE SENTENCE

Declares That After Studying the Evidence and the Prisoner He Concludes
That Young Man Killed
Mabel Pagd.

Boston, June 8.—Charles L. Tucker was told by his counsel, James H. Vahey, this forenoon that Gov. Guild refused to commute his sentence. The young man was partially prepared to hear the fatal words, but broke down completely when they were spoken. He moaned and cried and gave way to uncontrollable grief. His spirit seemed completely broken and his counsel was utterly unable to comfort him.

Mr. Vahey reached the prison at ten o'clock. Tucker had been looking for him since seven. Warden Bridges had not broken the news to the prisoner and had cautioned the death watch to say nothing to Tucker regarding Gov. Guild's decision, as printed in the morning papers.

Governor Curtis Guild announced at a late hour last night that he had decided not to commute the sentence to one of life imprisonment.

Governor Guild says he has reviewed the case with the utmost care, adding: "I have read all the evidence presented in the lower court and the official stenographic report (2,896 pages) of the proceedings in the superior court. I have personally examined the neighborhood of the murder and have on foot passed with time tests over the roads and ways about the Page house in Weston and at about the hours of the day when the murder was committed. I have examined all the various exhibits in the case and have myself fitted the blade of the knife of Charles L. Tucker into the slit in the blood-stained corset of Mabel Page."

Included in the statement is a report signed by the judges who occupied the bench during the trial, stating that they heard nothing at the hearings before the governor which they attended to meet the strong evidence of guilt offered at the trial. The possession of a stick pin sworn to have belonged to Miss Page in the same pocket with fragments of a knife in the pocket of his coat is taken by the governor to point strongly to the guilt of the prisoner. After referring to the sorrow brought upon Tucker's relatives, Gov. Guild continued:

"I must remember that other home—a pure and lovely girl murdered in a lonely home; a father martyred by sensationalism; a devoted sister driven to the verge of nervous prostration, and a faithful working girl, persecuted by threats of bodily harm."

"Proof of the miserable habits of life of this unhappy young man as disclosed by incidents in connection with his trial is confirmed by my own independent investigation."

The evidence in the lower court, later confirmed by expert medical evidence, furnishes unimpeachable proof that the prisoner was not accustomed to recognize even the bounds established by nature in the gratification of his passions.

"In common with every other responsible person in this case, sworn to act in accordance with his conviction, I am compelled to an unshaking belief in his guilt."

"Neither, therefore, on the ground urged that the verdict was unwarranted by the evidence, nor on the grounds usually urged, can I interfere with the execution of this just sentence."

Gov. Guild's statement bears the imprint of finality. There is nothing further to be said to him which will make him stay the hand of the executioner.

Not a scintilla of hope for a reprieve, on any pretext, under any circumstances, is given in the expression of the governor. The more carefully the gubernatorial decision is read, the bolder are the lines: "Tucker must die. I believe him guilty."

It cannot be said that at the state house the determination of Gov. Guild was unexpected, for since the day when it was proposed to petition for executive clemency the opinion there has been that he would not interfere.

But the governor did surprise many who believe they are close to him by the revelations as to the amount of personal investigation he had made to decide for himself whether Charles L. Tucker was guilty of the crime charged.

None except a few intimates who were well acquainted with him knew how conscientiously he was studying the case, suspected that Gov. Guild had constituted himself a jury that he might deal justly with this man.

How Vahey Received the Decision.

Boston, June 8.—The decision in the Tucker case, which made known to James H. Vahey, senior counsel for Tucker, at about 11 o'clock last night, in his room at Young's, before it was given to the press. He read it eagerly, but it did not require the perusal of but a few lines to see that Gov. Guild had decided against his client.

Mr. Vahey declared in his argument before the governor on Tuesday that he himself believed in the innocence of his client. When he read in the decision of the governor last night that there would be no executive interference he showed the effect of the announcement.

EXPECTS A CONFESSION.

Constable McAuliffe Believes Tucker Will Make Full Breast.

Boston, June 8.—"Up to today," said Constable Patrick McAuliffe of Weston, who had charge of the Page case in the early stages and who took a prominent part in the hunt for a murderer and at the trial, "I felt that the governor would not interfere, but like everybody else the delay in the matter left me a bit in doubt. He has always been an advocate of capital punishment and most people believed he would have the courage of his convictions and refuse to interfere with the action of the jury and judges."

"In my opinion, Tucker will now confess, unless he is kept stirred up to the necessity of keeping his mouth shut. To my mind he would have confessed before had it not been that his courage was kept up by his counsel. They may succeed in keeping him silent now, but unless they keep after him, I think he will tell all he knows. He would have done so before if he had been allowed to follow his own will."

"From the early days of the case I had no doubt of Tucker's guilt."

EDWARD PAGE'S OPINION.

Believed to Dying Day That Tucker Murdered His Daughter.

Boston, June 8.—Dr. Alfred Worcester of Waltham, for years the regular physician of the Page family, and who placed unreserved confidence, stated last night as an unqualified fact that up to the day of his death Mr. Page believed that Charles L. Tucker, on whom the doors of hope closed finally last night, was the murderer of Mabel Page.

The statement was made by Dr. Worcester without the least reservation of the part of any newspaper man. He believed that, as part of his civic devotion to the state, it should be made known what the father of the murdered girl believed, and that he should deny, by making the statement, the inference contained in the remarks made by the Rev. Dr. Winslow some time ago.

PARENTS OVERWHELMED.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Much Grieved by the Decision.

Boston, June 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Tucker of Auburndale, the parents of the convicted man, were overwhelmed with grief when the decision of the governor was communicated to them.

Former Attorney General Herbert Parker, who conducted the prosecution of Tucker, when informed of the governor's decision, said:

"I shall not make any statement in regard to the case until after I have received the governor's official statement tomorrow."

TUCKER'S CRIME.

Found Guilty of Murdering Mabel A. Page at Weston, Mass.

Tucker was convicted of murdering Miss Mabel A. Page at her home in Weston, Mass., April 9, 1904. The girl was killed with a knife. The first report on the discovery of the body was that she had committed suicide, but a closer examination disclosed that the wounds could not have been self-inflicted. The grand jury brought an indictment against him on June 2, 1905. In January of the following year he was found guilty of murder in the first degree.

DOBSON INSANE.

Lowell Man Sent to a Jamaica Plain Hospital.

Boston, June 8.—George Lincoln Dobson, the Lowell man who yesterday attempted to sue Governor Guild, claiming that he was inspired by God to demand the commutation of Tucker's sentence, was adjudged insane and committed to the Boston insane hospital in Jamaica Plain.

SHOULD SUFFER PENALTY.

Was Statement of Harold Page on Tucker Case.

Harold Page, brother of Miss Mabel Page, said:

"I can only say that I believe it is just that Tucker should suffer the penalty fixed by law for murder. It seems to me that dispassionately one can hardly help believing that the sentence of death is none to severe for the crime he committed."

"I believe thoroughly that Tucker killed my sister. I believe that after the fairest trial man could have had, he was convicted on opinion evidence which left no doubt of his guilt."

"Therefore, I believe he should be dealt with as the law directs."

"Gov. Guild's action does not surprise me. It is clearly in accordance with what I have heard of him. Gov. Guild is a fearless, conscientious public officer."

"I am sorry for Tucker's father and mother, but I cannot forget what he brought upon our family, for he not only killed my sister, but he indirectly was the cause of my father's death."

SMOTHERED
BY WHITE DAMP

Eight Miners Lost Lives In Mines

FOLLOWING A BIG FIRE

The Fire Had Been Smoldering for a
Year and Broke Out Again Yesterday—Others Believed to Be Lost.

Red Lodge, Mont., June 8.—Eight miners are dead and it is believed that several others lost their lives as the result of white damp that followed a fire and filled the corridors of the mines of the Rocky Fork coal company. The fire, which had been smoldering for a year, broke out Tuesday, but was supposed to be under control when the men went to work yesterday. The flames suddenly became active and the men working in the lower levels were cut off, while the damp followed and the men were overcome.

GOMPERTS ATTACKS
CONG. LITTLEFIELD

Says That Maine Man Is Opposed to Laboring Man and Is a Tool of the Trusts—Advices Against Him.

Lewiston, Me., June 8.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, who is here to attend the state convention of laboring men, in a speech before the convention yesterday afternoon made a savage attack upon Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, and he says that he will come to this district and stump it in the interests of the Hon. D. J. McGillicuddy, who was yesterday nominated by the Democrats.

President Gompers says that he has never before taken part in politics, but that now the limit has been reached, that his patience is exhausted, and that he will do all he possibly can to defeat the election of Congressman Littlefield, if he is renominated. In his speech this afternoon President Gompers said that Maine has in the past had able and honest men in Congress, but today there is not one of them who has the interests of the laboring men at heart. He said that the laboring men should see to it that they have men in Congress from Maine who will work for the interests of humanity.

President Gompers declared that Congressman Littlefield is opposed to the working men of Maine, that he has not a spark of love for them and is the tool of the trusts and corporations.

HER SON NOT DEAD.

Mother of Missing Harvard Instructor So Declares.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 8.—"My son is not dead, despite my former statements to the contrary. His innocence has been admitted by the family of his dead wife, and he will return and vindicate himself to the public."

Mrs. Julia Muenster, mother of Eric Muenster, the missing Harvard instructor, who is accused of killing his wife in Cambridge April 16, made the above statement yesterday.

Mrs. Muenster had been quoted as having admitted that the man who killed himself in Philadelphia three weeks ago was her son.

"I did say something like that after reporters had tormented me about the case many days," she said. "I have not heard from Eric, but I am as confident that he is alive as if I had seen him."

"I do not know where my son is, but I do know that he is alive and as innocent of the cruel charge as a babe. He will come back some day and all will be well."

"Eric's wife died of blood poisoning," said Mrs. Muenster.

VICTIM'S SISTER SATISFIED.

Had No Doubt That Tucker Killed Mabel Page.

Boston, June 8.—Mrs. H. V. Freeman, sister of Miss Mabel Page, said:

"I am absolutely satisfied with the decision of the governor. I have never had any doubt that the man murdered my sister, and my only hope has been that justice would prevail. I seek not vengeance, but the execution of the stern judgment of the law, which, in justice to the memory of my dear, dead sister, should prevail against the pleas of those who had no appreciation of the enormity of the crime, and who could not have conceived its atrocity, since it had not been brought home to them as it was to us."

"I have had a very anxious day; indeed, they have been anxious moments. But tonight I am content."

"I am satisfied and shall sleep peacefully."

"I believe every woman in this land, every woman whether she enjoys protection or not, will rest easier when she learns that Tucker is to be executed. Gov. Guild has acted justly and well."

BURLINGTON BALL TEAM HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

Two of Pitching Staff Will Be Hatch
and Tift of Brown University—
Hays Is Captain and Manager.

Burlington, June 8.—The Burlington baseball team has been announced by the management. Thomas E. Hays, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., now a student in the university of Vermont, will captain the team. William Higgins, also a student in the university of Vermont and a former Brown university star, will do the bulk of the catching. Neither one of these men played on the university of Vermont team because of the action of the faculty.

For first string pitcher will be Harry Hatch whose home is in St. Albans and who was debarred from playing on the Brown university team because of professionalism. Tift, the Brown star this year, will pitch also for the locals. He is a left hander. The other players are: Outfielder, change catcher and outfielder, of Lynn, Mass., Carroll, last year with Rutland, and four college players from Pennsylvania will make up the remainder of the team, with the exception of a college pitcher who doesn't want his name announced and a league first baseman who will give up his present company's name for the opening of the Vermont league.

MONTPELIER SEM. LOST.

Second Team of Vermont Turned the Trick.

Burlington, June 8.—A small crowd saw the Vermont second team win its last game of the season yesterday afternoon at the new university field, with the greatest ease defeating Montpelier seminary 12 to 2. It clearly showed the relative strength of the two teams, and the college boys feel better over their hard luck at Montpelier last Saturday when the game slipped away to the seminary; the only defeat received by the second team this season. Splendid pitching by Thomas, one-hand catches by Berry and W. A. Barlow and difficult catches by Molver and Bigelow were the features. The score:

Innings . . . 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9—R H E
Vermont 26 0 0 5 1 1 1 0 0—11 3

Meeting Tonight to Take Definite Base Ball Action.

Plattsburg, N. Y., June 8.—A meeting of the Plattsburg Base Ball association will be held this evening to definitely decide whether or not Plattsburg will have a team in the Northern League the coming season. There seems to be a lack of interest in the sport this year and a consequent lack of funds. Manager Lash claims to have lost two first string college pitchers after they had made a verbal agreement with him to play here. The outcome of the meeting will be awaited with interest.

DENNINGTON DEMOCRATS
FAVOR FUSION IDEA

They Think That Coalition With
Clement Will Be a Desirable
Thing.

Dennington, June 8.—Several of the leading Democrats of this place have been interviewed regarding their position regarding fusion with Clement, and the general sentiment seems to be favorable.

Wm. P. Hogan was heartily in favor of a fusion state ticket and a fusion county ticket. He was of the opinion that he is alive as if I had seen him. "I do not know where my son is, but I do know that he is alive and as innocent of the cruel charge as a babe. He will come back some day and all will be well."

"Eric's wife died of blood poisoning," said Mrs. Muenster.

"I have had a very anxious day; indeed, they have been anxious moments. But tonight I am content."

PLAN TO OUST
MR. JEROME

Demand For Removal Goes to Gov. Higgins

FROM WILLIAM M. AMORY

Presumed That Charges Relate to Alleged Negligence to Prosecute Certain Residents.

Albany, N. Y., June 8.—Removal of William Travers Jerome from the office of district attorney of New York county is demanded of Governor Higgins in a complaint which has been filed at the executive chamber by William M. Amory of New York city. Frank E. Purley, secretary to the governor, admitted last night that such a complaint had been filed, but he would say nothing as to the nature of the charges made against Jerome.

"It would be obviously improper," said he, "for me to give out anything whatever on the subject in the absence of Governor Higgins. I have acknowledged receipt of the papers, with the statement that they will be brought to the governor's attention upon his return."

While nothing definite can be learned here as to the nature of the charges made by Mr. Amory it is assumed that the complaint is the one which was threatened by him before legislative committee last winter and is based upon the charges he then made against Mr. Jerome of negligence in failing to prosecute persons implicated by Mr. Amory in his allegations against certain Metropolitan Trustee interests.

Governor Higgins is at Olean and expects to make a western business trip before his return to Albany. He may not be here before June 15 and probably will not see the Amory charges before that time.

BISHOP CRITICALLY ILL.

Peritonitis Found in Operation for Appendicitis.

Manchester, N. H., June 8.—The Right Rev. John H. Delany, second bishop of the Manchester diocese, is lying at the Sacred Heart hospital in a critical condition. An operation was performed at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning for a very serious case of appendicitis. The operation showed that there was inflammation. The appendix was perforated and peritonitis had set in. His condition is considered by the physicians as extremely dangerous and his chances for recovery about one in ten.

Dr. Maurice L. Richardson, the well-known specialist of Boston, was the operating surgeon. His assistant was Dr. E. E. Garland, also of Boston. Miss Smith, Dr. Richardson's private nurse, was also present, as were several nurses of the Sacred Heart hospital staff. Dr. James Cullity and Dr. James Murray and other physicians were present during the operation.

While the attending physicians hope for the best, they are very anxious as to the outcome. The fact that peritonitis had set in caused great alarm. However, it is hoped that Bishop Delany's recuperative powers will be of such a nature as to enable him to recover.

COWARDLY
VANDALISM

L. G. Rizzi Loses About
$1,500 By It.

MONUMENTS DEFACED

Eleven Stones in Various Stages of Completion Were Ruined Last Night
—Probably the Work of Spite.

A most cowardly crime was committed some time during last night at the granite plant of L. G. Rizzi, of Blackwell street, when some person or persons entered the shop and mutilated, probably beyond repair, about $1,500 worth of partially finished monuments.

The perpetrator of the deed entered by climbing over the big door between the stock yard and the cutting shed, which is in summer left open at the top. All the other doors were locked when Mr. Rizzi went to the plant this morning, except a small door in the opposite end, which can only be opened from the inside. This door was opened, showing that the one who committed the deed had taken a quicker way to get out than that by which he entered.
